Bryan and Kern Club.

About seventy-five Democrats met at the court house Friday night for the purpose of organizing a Bryan and Kern Club. Mr. D. C. Parrish was elected chairman and Mr. Wm. Grannan, Secretary of the meeting. The Chairman asked for suggestions in regard to the organization of the club, and after several being offered a motion was made that the chair appoint a committee of five to draft a plan of organization and to report back at the meeting on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, when a permanent organization will be effected.

The following committee was named by the chair: H. O. James, Judge Denis Dundon, O. P. Carter, Luke Connally and R. K. McCarney. The committee has been active and expects to have a large and enthusiastic crowd of Democrats present Thursday night. Chairman H. O. James has been in communication with the Hon. John R. Allen, of Lexington, who has promised to be on hand and address the crowd. Col. Allen is one of the most eloquent Democratic orators in Kentucky, and being quite a favorite with our people there will be a large crowd out to hear the distinguished speaker.

Swift Champ, editor of the Bourbon News, has received a shipment of the new Bryan buttons which are now on hand at the News office and all persons who contribute one dollar or more to the campaign fund can get one of these buttons. Every Democrat in the country should get one as each subscription will do much toward helping the party to come out victorious in the coming struggle for the Presidency.

Drouth Broken.

The long drouth in Bourbon was broken yesterday morning by a good soaking rain for several hours, but not near enough to do much good. However, it had become so distressingly dry that every little helps and we should be thankful. The sudden fall in the temperature no doubt stopped the rain as it became really too cool to be comfortable without a little fire.

DEATHS.

Mr. Washington Redmon, aged 84 years, died about 9 o'clock Thursday night of acute indigestion, at his home five miles from Paris on the Redmon pike in the same house in which he was born.

For one of his age Mr. Redmon was unusually active, having attended July court day in Paris, and during the day preceding his death, as was his usual daily custom he rode over his fine farm of nearly five hundred acres. Mr. Redmon came of an old Virginia family, his father, George Redmon, locating in Bourbon in 1796. Mr. Redmon long before the war and after was noted mule trader. He amassed a comfortable fortune by his own unaided efforts and was a worthy and respected citizen.

When he reached his majority he was united in marriage to Miss Rebecca Ashurst, daughter of the late John K. Ashurst, who survives her husband after a wedded life of more than 66 years.

Mr. Redmon was not a member of any religious denomination, but always attended services. He is survived by his wife and four children, Mr. Solomon Redmon and Mrs. Castle Redmon, of Bourbon; Mrs. John Forsyth, of Paris, Mo.; and Mrs. William Shropshire, of Harrison county.

The funeral services took place Saturday afternoon from the residence at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Moragn. The interment in the Paris cemetery. The pall bearers were George W. Redmon, John G. Redmon, William T. Redmon and Thos. J. Redmon, John W. Redmon and George R. Ashurst.

Fraud and Force Rampant.

The Roosevelt administration, having designated an Heir Apparent, set out in this Presidential Campaign to establish the rule of Fraud and Force, and "Marse" Henry Watterson comments as follows:

The bullies began belaboring one another. Bogus delegations were set up in each of the Southern States by the Federal officeholders. All thought of decency and fair play, of Civil Service Reform pledges and honorable party fellowship, was thrown to the winds, whilst Messrs. Knock-down and Drag-out blustered and browbeat the primitives.

"Nigger, be dam'd," shouted the lily-whites, if the black man dared to offer his vote. "Brain the Son of a She Dog," cried the twirlers of the Big Stick, whenever a Fairbanks man appeared at the polls. Even at this rate, however, the Steam Roller had to be called into requisition at Chicago in order to complete the slaughter and to force the lordly will of the over lord of the White House.

With Taft, and any old thing of a machine politician—even Sunny Jim Sherman, the graftor's own go between—all would be easy sailing, they gleefully thought.

Thus it was that the Republican Campaign was started as a Sunday school upon a picnic. Pastor Theodore had before hand selected a lovely grove with a nice cool spring and had arranged all the pretty details. Proxy Frank Hitchcock, the ice-cream man, was to drive the lunch wagon. Big Bill, the Superintendent, assisted by Aunt Jemima Aldrich, and Teacher Hughes—each provided with pasteboard wings—was to lead the little ones through flower-bordered paths to a rustic bower where a puppet-show had been prepared for the amusement of the assembled children. The piece was to be called "Little Red Riding Hood." Wilie Bryan was to be Little Red Riding Hood. Uncle Joe Cannon was to play Grandma. Sunny Jim Sherman was to play Wolf. What happened?

The day dawned dark and sultry. Lightning flashed played fitfully along the Western sky and presently dull reverberations of thunder rolled down from the faraway North. Then the rain fell in torrents. Picnic forsaken above the voice of the elements rises the shrill notes of the pastor, crying "every man to cover and rats to your holes."

Hell hath no fury like a Big Stick foiled. For the second time Theodore Roosevelt makes common cause with William Randolph Hearst, their first liaison through Procuress Parsons last year having whetted the Teddy Bear appetite for something gamey, and we see the Yellow Journalist astride the Steam Roller. Big Stick in hand, belaboring alike the Democrats and those Republicans who are persona non grata to the throne, like Foraker.

It is the old, old story: Fraud and Force, Force and Fraud, nothing but Fraud and Force.

They are going on as if they thought the people deaf dumb and blind. Their fury makes madmen of them. In their baffled rage they strike out impotently at friend and foe alike. Already beaten, they would pull the house down rather than walk out peacefully, giving place to their betters. It is pitiful.

It is humiliating. It would be amazing except that it is the nature of Hysteria rampant and of Hypocrisy caught in the act.

Who is John W. Kern?

"Who is John W. Kern?" asks William E. Corey, the multimillionaire steel magnate who gained notoriety by marrying Maeve Gilman, the actress, and the Albany, N. Y., Daily Press and Knickerbocker answers as follows:

In the first place, John W. Kern is an old fogey. He has such old-fashioned notions that he despises a man who would divorce his wife and the mother of his children in order to gratify an insane passion for an actress. John W. Kern is one of those back numbers who places honor above dollars. He would not sell his soul for gold, even though the devil offered him all of the yellow metal there is in the bowels of the earth. He has remained a comparatively poor man all his life rather than enter a combine to rob the people and drive competitors out of business. He never so far as we have been able to learn either found a public library or endowed a college. Having lived a wholesome and God-fearing life all his days, he has never felt the necessity of apologizing to his Maker or offering penance in the form of lucre for his sins. William E. Corey is about as sharp a contrast to John W. Kern as could be found within the boundaries of the United States, with the possible exception of James S. Sherman, the other candidate for Vice President, no man who holds dear the honor of this country can contemplate the possibility of James S. Sherman becoming through an act of Providence, the President of the United States without shuddering; whereas John W. Kern should be called upon to step into the highest office he would grace it.

"Who is John W. Kern?" asks the faithless nabob who cast off his faithful wife, the woman who has bravely shared his days of poverty and had struggled with him to build up his fortunes, as a man throws away a lemon after he has squeezed all the good out of it. Such impertinence deserves no answer, were it not for the sake of calling attention to the brazen effrontery of men of Corey's stamp who had through the medium of protected monopoly grown to be the greatest menace that confronts this nation today.

Anarchy can be stamped out by force, but the insidious evil imposed upon this long suffering people by men who President Roosevelt designates very forcibly a "malefactor of great wealth" is even more to be dreaded than anarchy.

"Who is John W. Kern?" Why a plain honest American citizen of the highest type, an unpretentious clean living man, yet of scholarly attainments and commanding intellect. Had that purse-proud Pittsburgh millionaire read

John W. Kern's masterly reply to the apology of James S. Sherman, he would have no need to ask, "who is John W. Kern?"

Stamping Out Typhoid Fever.

It may not be generally known here that by inoculation the English troops in India have been largely prevented from contracting typhoid fever during the past two years, and thus this disease, which had long been a terror to medical men in the tropics among masses of soldiers, is no longer dreaded—Dr. M. Allen Starr, in Harper's Magazine.

Live Rat in Beer Bottle.

Up in prohibition Maine there's a living rat in a beer bottle. Wilbur Mead of Randolph has the curiosity. The beer bottle has a small neck and the rat must have crawled into it about as soon as he could move, for although he is only three inches long the now he cannot get out again. The Kennebec Journal vouches for the yarn.

County Larger Than State.

Although the New England states are small, the average size of the counties is greater than in most of the middle, western and southern states. Worcester county, in Massachusetts, is an example of an eastern county that is at the same time large in area and very populous. It is larger than the adjoining state of Rhode Island.

New Form of Chromium.

Chromium prepared in the electric furnace by Moissan proved to be slightly soluble in molten copper. Further investigation has revealed a new form of chromium, which is crystalline, has a density of 7.1, is chemically active, and burns with a brilliant flame when heated alone in the air, being attacked at red heat even by nitrogen.

Not So.

"Queer," muttered Uncle Rooster, as he turned over the magazine's pages of advertisements in a vain search for the feeding matter. "Ye'd think that all these here automatic planer playin' inventions would a' giv our girls more time to help their mothers with the housework. Yet seth don't seem to be the case."

The Gullible Public.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "it 'pears to me like de public was composed of people hangin' round wantin' to be fooled. An' dars allus mo' or less competition amon de smart men de country 'bout who's gwinter hab de pleasure of tendin' to de job."—Washington Star.

Had Small Brain.

A healthy, regularly-formed brain of 24 ounces scarcely half of the normal average, seems to have been the smallest ever recorded for an adult. It was recently found in Daniel Ryan, a New York coachman, who died suddenly at the age of 46.

Why He Never Spoke.

There was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise; he never spoke unto his wife of his mother's cakes and pies. The secret of his wisdom—guess it if you can; but if you can't behold it—he was a bachelor man.

When He Takes Second Place.

Though his wife frequently may have tried to make him realize it, a man never realizes just what an incidental and insignificant thing he is until the Baby comes to the house.—Syracuse Journal.

Passes Unnoticed.

A New Jersey man claims to have been bitten by dogs 3,000 times. After a life-time spent with New Jersey mosquitoes a little thing like a dog bite passes unnoticed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Society in Kansas.

An Atchison woman wore a dress with a long train to a recent card party, and the rest of the guests spent two-thirds of their time in jumping over it.—Atchison Globe.

Unchivalrous Suggestion.

Women like to jest about there being no men in heaven, but they know well enough that if there were no men there it wouldn't be heaven for them.—Somerville Journal.

Will Find Cure for Leprosy.

It is estimated that there are some 3,000,000 lepers in the world, but the cure of leprosy is now regarded as being within measurable distance.

Certainly Something Wrong.

"Oh, mamma," exclaimed little Nettie one day, "there must be something the matter with the baby; he isn't crying!"

One Reason for Bachelorhood.

Occasionally a man remains in the bachelor class because he is skeptical as to the ability of a woman to support him.

To Dislodge Bone in Throat.

A raw egg swallowed at once after a fishbone has stuck in the throat will usually dislodge it.

Cure for Earache.

Take the heart of an onion and heat and insert in the ear and it will cure earache.

The Contented Man.

The man who is thoroughly contented is likely to be a bore or a tramp.

Miles of Human Hair.

The average woman carries 50 miles of hair on her head.

Cherries in England.

It is still asserted in schoolbooks that cherries were introduced to this country by the "fruiteer" or green-grocer of Henry VIII; also that they were not common for a hundred years after that time. It is a surprising error. Mr. Thomas Wright found the name in every one of the Anglo-Saxon vocabularies which he edited. So common were they, and so highly esteemed, that the time for gathering them became a recognized festival—"cherry fair" or "feast."—London Cornhill Magazine.

Man's Blundering Reason.

Beasts, birds and insects, even to the minutest and meanest of their kind, act with the unerring providence of instinct; man, the white, who possesses a higher faculty, abuses it, and, therefore, goes blundering on. They, by their unconscious and unhesitating obedience to the laws of nature, fulfill the end of their existence; he, in willful neglect of the laws of God, loses sight of the end of his.—Southey.

Her Sympathy.

Little Margaret was enduring a visit from her boisterous cousins from the west. One evening after the children said their prayers, their talk turned on heaven. Henry, Dick and Bob wished to know if they would go there when they died. When an affirmative answer was given, Little Margaret exclaimed with heartfelt sympathy: "Poor Dod."—Life.

English Postmistress' Travels.

Miss Trimmingham, a postmistress and letter carrier of Fishlake, near Doncaster, has been "postman" for 27 years, and in charge of the postoffice for 23 years. Her journeys total 6,186 miles in 12 months. During the whole of the time she has been on duty for only seven days, and has walked over 200,000 miles.

More Microbe Scare.

Now we hear that the sand of the seashore has microbes, and the darlings of the squeamish mothers will no longer be allowed to play there, which may be good news for the other children. One would think the tide might make it pure enough, but no doubt there is a difference of opinion on the subject.

The Preacher's Advice.

"My friends," said the itinerant preacher, "the Scriptural rule for giving was one-tenth of what a man possessed. If you feel that you can't afford so much, just give a sixth or a fourth, according to your means. We will dispense with the next hymn, and take up the collection."—Lippincott's.

What Does Comfort Mean?

What does comfort mean, or defiance, unrest or expectation? What is this and all the rest which we must lose little by little, compared with the only thing that is indispensable, and that alone is happiness—peace?—Edward Soderberg.

Problem Seeks Solution.

Since there is a father in most families, so-called "man-hated" on the part of some women seems foolish. Put, on the other hand, what shall be done with the good brother who believes that all really good and sensible women died before he was born?

Quite Out of the Ordinary.

An Atchison woman is so deeply in love with her husband the neighbors run when they see her coming. They explain that hearing constantly of the virtues of a husband is more tiresome than hearing of the smartness of a baby or dog.—Atchison Globe.

Wiping Out an Army.

The entire standing army of the Tonga islands has been disbanded, it having been decided that an army is of no further use in the kingdom. The army consisted of six officers and 30 men.—London Standard.

No Art in Fortune-Telling.

A fortune-teller is a clever observer. Every one of us is born to a certain type, and any experienced person can detect if we are imaginative, dull, nervous or sluggish and make a fair story of our future. It is guess work.

Organ Built to Last.

Organ makers of old built to good purpose, as the one in All Hallows' church, Barking, England, shows, it having been installed in 1677, and is now undergoing only its second renovation.

Tender Touch.

A man who is rough and awkward at everything else will show a delicacy and skill greater than any woman's when he has to patch a ten-dollar bill.—Atchison Globe.

Not the Same Thing.

The man who takes up a lot of room in a street car may not occupy any space at all in the hall of fame.

Mirrors Merely Polished Plates.

Mirrors mentioned in the old testament were of highly polished plates of copper, or lead.

Learn This To-Day.

"Some men who turn over a new leaf find it's just the same on the other side."—Boston Post.

Wise Advice.

Learn to unlearn what you have learned amiss.—Italian proverb.

Especially If She Is His Wife.

Fortunate is she who cooks for a man with a good appetite.

The Diamond Beyond Imitation.

There may be a "slump" in the market due to increasing economy of the age in which we live, but a diamond must always remain a diamond, the hardest, most brilliant and most valuable of the family of precious stones, a transparent crystal of pure carbon, and a product of nature, defying the manufacturer to equal its purity and value.—Bloemfontein Weekly Post.

Love Is Hysteria?

A South Norwalk, Conn., dominie is quoted as declaring that "love is hysteria." Of course, it is, but why does the clergyman object to it on that account? It is not only hysteria, but it's a high fever, a cold chill, nervous prostration and acute neuralgia, alternately. There's what makes it interesting, and in any event, desirable.—New York Morning Telegraph.

Monument to Paupers.

Ernesto Nathan, the Syndic of Rome, says the Frankfurter Zeitung, recently had erected at his own expense a marble shaft in the potter's field of the Roman cemetery. The inscription states that the city, mindful of its obligation to the industry of the lowly, remembers those whose toil becomes over have fallen into nameless graves.

Room for More Women.

Women who are dissatisfied with conditions at home may find it to their advantage to emigrate to South Africa. There is said to be a great demand for women in all sorts of work. Three hundred and forty-one women went within the year from the United Kingdom to Cape Town, most of them teachers, and all found employment.

What Is the Spinster Age?

In the days of Jane Austen 22 or 23 was supposed to be a good-and-done-for age for a girl, who was expected to be married when she was 17 or 18 years of age. Nowadays a girl is said to be sensible who waits until she is 25 or 30 to marry and then, of course, marries a man very different from the hero of her salad days.

New Idea in Counting.

There is a son of Erin in Newton, Mass., who is quite a character. He has a number of children and was asked one day how long he had been married. "Well," he said, "there's Eugene is 40, and Norah 35, that makes sixty-five, and Lizze is 32, and how many do that make?"

Everything Going Up.

"These almonds look nice," said Mrs. Schoppen, "but isn't the price high?" "Well," replied Skinner, the grocer, "the paper trust has advanced prices awfully." "What has that to do with the case?" "Why, madam, these are genuine paper shell almonds."

Let Others Live Also.

We have seen that the highest form of protection for some may be the worst form of suppression for the majority. And, if we would have the right to live ourselves, we must first perform the great eternal duty—to let others live also.—Strindberg.

Economical Worry.

Little Loren had watched the rain pour down all day. Finally, when the clouds began to break away, he said: "Mamma, do you suppose those clouds will ever be fit to use again?"—The Delineator.

With the Minority.

Wait not to be backed by numbers. Wait not till you are sure of an echo from a crowd. The fewer the voices on the side of truth the more distinct and strong must be your own.—Emerson.

Lost in the Mail.

An ambitious French author wrote a book, which he called "An Epistle to Posterity," and handed to Voltaire for criticism. "Sir," said the witty and malicious poet, "that is a letter which will never get to its destination."

Try This Flavoring.

Do you ever use pineapple juice for flavoring? It is one of the best substitutes for those who do not care to use wine. Added to fruit salads of all kinds it is excellent.

Aiding Nature.

Some women are just naturally homely, and others wear big pompadours, all the way around.—Nashville American.

Milk to Remove Stains.

Scalding hot milk will remove stains from linen and cotton more effectively than boiling water.

Not Good When Fresh.

Knowledge and timber shouldn't be much used till they are seasoned.—Holmes.

Mellowed by Tribulation.

It has done me good to be somewhat parched by the heat and drenched by the rain of life.—Longfellow.

Greek Proverb.

Those that are quick to decide are unsafe.

Diseases from Tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis kills 169.9 persons out of every 100,000.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not respond.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional reputation as each of its several ingredients—more than an number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmal, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too often it is not to be expected of this "Favorite Prescription" that it will not perform miracles with cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Roosevelt Replies to Bryan.

President Roosevelt Sunday night made public a long reply to Mr. Bryan's letter, in which he compares the number of prosecutions under the anti-trust act during the last Democratic Administration with the number under his administration. The President again bitterly denounced Gov. C. N. Haskell and criticizes Mr. Bryan for his attitude toward the former treasurer of the campaign committee. Mr. Roosevelt expresses unwillingness to have campaign contributions made public before election on the ground that such publication would be made the basis of unjust criticisms of the Republican campaign.

THEATRICAL.

IN VAUDEVILLE.

—McMahan & Jackson last night presented two of the cleverest acts yet seen on the stage of the Paris Grand, which were warmly received by the audiences present. Harry Seinya Mack, in his impersonation of the street beggar in the "Story of the Rose" was very clever. Harry and Mae Howard is one of the best singing and dancing teams that the patrons of the Grand have ever had the pleasure of seeing. Mrs. Howard appears in some very elaborate costumes. Mr. Howard, in his Southern negro dancing without music, made quite a hit. The moving pictures, "A Detective's Tour of the World" and "Three Chatter Boxes," were exceptionally funny.

HIGH-CLASS BILL.

—McMahan & Jackson's advanced vaudeville production is to be presented at the Paris Grand on Oct. 15, 16 and 17, and is to be composed of six of the best vaudeville features that are obtainable. Manager Jackson, through his booking agent, has received the billing of a few of the acts, the remainder to arrive this week, when they will be announced. This will be a rare treat for the theatre-going public of this city, as vaudeville artists who have been palying the Eastern circuits will be seen here on the above dates.

—"A STUBBORN CINDERELLA."

—"A Stubborn Cinderella," the latest musical comedy and tremendous success will be the attraction at the Lexington Opera House Monday and Tuesday and Tuesday matinee. The production comes direct from the Princess Theatre, Chicago, where it had its triumphant opening last May and is now in its eighth month of the biggest success Chicago has ever had. No recent years have seen a musical comedy which has made such a positive hit as "A Stubborn Cinderella," it not only having opened Chicago's newest and best theatre but every dramatic critic was loud in their praises and predicted years of prosperity for Hough, Adams and Howard's latest success. "A Stubborn Cinderella" was produced by Mort B. Singer and the Princess Amusement Company and is the largest musical production ever sent out of Chicago, it having a cast of eighty people and a production that cost nearly $75,000. The scenery and costumes are gorgeous and the fifty show girls are beautifully arrayed during the entire play. There are eighty people in the cast, among them Homer B. Mason and Marguerite Keeler, headliners in the Orpheum show last year; the Dovey, Grace Edmund, as the prima donna, Jack Raffael, Harry Pauli, Frederick Starr, Lincoln Plummer, Claire Noelke and Richard Kent.

Come Back to Kentucky.

Rev. M. Gano Buckner, pastor of the Christian church at Mansfield, Ohio, has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Christian church at Owensboro, and will shortly enter upon his duties. Rev. He is a Bourbon county boy, being a grandson of the late Elder John A. Gano.

Sold Pooled Tobacco.

At Mt. Olivet Friday Mace Gordley, of Robertson county, waived examination and was held to the grand jury in the sum of $200 on the charge of selling pooled tobacco in violation of the Crecilius bill adopted by the last legislature. Gordley is the man who created a sensation at Mt. Olivet about a month ago by making a speech in which he said he had held his tobacco in the pool as long as he could and had then sold it and urged all the members of the pool to do likewise.

Taft's Good Friend.

It has been officially admitted in Washington that A. J. Vorys, as the records have, it is A. J. Vorys, Judge Taft's good friend and chief staff in Ohio, who was disbanded from practice before the Department of the Interior because he wrongfully withheld pension money in the case of Sarah English. Governmental records officially tell the story of A. J. Vorys' suspension from practice before the Interior Department. It is all set out in executive document No. 172, of the Forty-ninth Congress, first session.

County Unit in Indiana.

County unit is now a law in Indiana. The Legislature Saturday passed the option bill by a vote of 55 to 45. Five Democrats voted for it and four Republicans against it. Intense excitement prevailed while the vote was being taken. The temperance forces stormed the legislative halls and won the day. Gov. Hanly, it is said, will stump a county for a Democratic representative who voted for the bill against the Republican nominee.

Christian Missionary Convention at Hopkinsville.

The sixty-eighth annual meeting of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention was called to order by President Carey E. Morgan, of Paris, at Hopkinsville, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The day was clear and bright and the beautiful new church building in which the convention is being held was crowded to the doors with delegates and visitors from all over the State.

After a very helpful Bible reading on "Missions in Acts," conducted by President J. W. McGarvey, of Lexington, president of the convention, made his annual address, which made a deep impression on the convention. His address was followed by the appointment of various committees.

State Evangelist H. W. Elliott, of Sulphur, then read his annual report, showing the work done by the organization during the past year. The following interesting facts were gleaned from his splendid report, viz:

"We have added two churches to this goodly company during the past year, Midway and Harrodsburg are the churches that have made this advance.
Eight churches have reached this goal.
Two counties have taken a position that we hope may incite many others to go and do likewise. A county in which there is no church strong enough to pay the required $200 may combine the offerings of all the churches. A Friend makes the total number of living links eleven. They are as follows:

Danville—H. C. Garrison, minister;
S. J. Short and A. Saunders, workers.
Harrodsburg—Horace Kingsbury, minister; J. B. Flinchum, worker.

Midway—George W. Kemper, minister; H. H. Thompson, worker.

Broadway, Lexington—Mark Collis, minister; Z. Ball, worker.

Paris—Carey E. Morgan, minister;

C. M. Summers, worker.

Winchester—J. H. MacNeil, minister;

D. G. Combs, worker.

Frankfort—C. R. Hudson, minister;

W. F. Smith, worker.

Louisville, First Church—Edward B.
Richey, minister; E. L. Powell, worker.
Henry county—H. C. Runyon, worker.
Oldham county—Harlan county field
J. W. Masters, worker.

"A Friend"—J. P. Bicknell, worker;
This is an advance of three over last year. We indulge the hope that another year's record may go far beyond this.

"Men employed, part or all time, 42 days at work, 5280; sermons preached 3487; additions, 1916, places visited and helped, 370, preachers located, 68;
officers appointed or ordained, 148; S.
S. organized 47; prayer meetings organized, 33; new congregations, 4.
Total money raised for Kentucky missions, $31,000. Total raised for organizing missions in State, $37,605.91.

"We sincerely hope that the record of this year may inspire us to enter upon the new year with greater zest than ever before. We ought to go to Lexington in 1909 with a great year's achievement put to record."

The Remedy That Does.

"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing, others promise but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. R. Pierson, of Auburn Centre, lung trouble of long standing, that other treatments relieve only temporarily. New Discovery is doing me so much good that I feel confident its continued use for a reasonable length of time will restore me to perfect health." This renowned cough and

The Prig and His Cane.

In the number of the Tattler for Oct.
6, 1709, it is observed that "a cane is part of the dress of a prig" (this, by the way, shows the erroneous notion prevalent that "priggishness" is a modern word) "and always worn upon a button, for fear he should be thought to have an occasion for it or be esteemed really and not genteelly a cripple."

In the number of Nov. 18 a rural squire in town is sketched who is the prototype of one of the pavement nuisances: "His arms naturally swung at an unreasonable distance from his sides, which, with the advantage of a cane that he brandished in a great variety of irregular motions, made it unsafe for any one to walk within several yards of him."

And under date of Dec. 5 there is an amusing sketch of "a lively, fresh colored young man" who was among the applicants to Isaac Bickerstaff's court of censorship for license to use "canes, perspective glasses, snuffboxes, orange flower waters and the like ornaments of life." This young man had his cane hanging on his fifth button and was "an Oxford scholar who was just entered at the temple."

A Wedding Superstition.
It has been considered unlucky to be married in May ever since the days of Ovid, and those people who have spent their time in looking up roots and reasons have given what they consider to be the origin of the superstition as follows:

In ancient Rome there was held in May a festival called the Lemuria, or feast of the Lemures, which was a ceremony in honor of the speeches of departed souls. It became with the Romans what we should call "bad form" to have matrimonial feasts at the season of a solemn ritual, being no doubt thought to be an insult to the dead to marry at such a time. From this a number of stories grew of the revenge made by the outraged ghosts upon those who dared to disregard them, and if anything unfortunate happened to a couple who had been married in May it would, of course, have been put down to retribution. So the tradition of ill luck arose, and its influence has lasted ever since, even to our time.

Towed by a Halibut.

About the mouths of the streams on which salmon camps are situated the Indian dogs and children amuse themselves catching the fish. Some of the youngsters are so small that after they have succeeded in cornering a fish the combined efforts of the party are often required to dispatch it and carry it to camp.
I have watched dogs running about in a rift snapping at the salmon and apparently having the time of their lives.

One of the most amusing sights that I saw during my stay in Alaska was two Indian boys being towed about the harbor at Kodiak by a huge halibut but they had just hooked. Utterly unable to land the fish, they had fastened the line to the stern of the boat, and while they pulled with all their might, each one at an oar, they rallied each other for not exerting more strength and shouted loudly for help. Finally an Indian put out in a boat, and the fish was landed.—Forest and Stream.

Bewildering France.

There are in France two Bordeaux,
the one in the Gironde and a tiny place in the Loiret. There are two Toulous-es, the old town in the Haute-Garonne and Toulouse du Jura, a village with 600 inhabitants, near Lons-le-Saunier. There is Tours in Touraine, Balzac's Tours in the Indre-et-Loire and Tours, a village in Savoy, near Albertville. There are seven St. Cyrs, simple St. Cyrs, that is, and twenty-four with something tacked on to them; seven St. Denises and forty-seven with some addition, fourteen St.
Germain and 114 with something tacked on.

Great Lovers of Water.

The Siamese are more devoted to the water than any other nation in the world. They are nearly always bathing, generally with their clothes on, and they never go anywhere by land if they can possibly go by water. The streets of Bangkok are like those of Venice, and the inhabitants say that their idea of paradise would be a town with canals where there were currents in both directions, so that they might be spared the effort of rowing.

The Sorrow of It.

"It's too bad," observed the man who seemed to be thinking aloud.

"What's too bad?" queried the party who had overheard the observation.

"That our neighbors always know when we have fried onions for supper, but never get next when we have strawberries and ice cream," explained the noisy thinker.—Chicago News.

The Weather.

"Do you think there is any reliable way of foretelling the weather?"

"Yep," answered Farmer Cortossel. "Jes' think of the kind you don't want and then prophesy it."—Washington Star.

Full of It.

Mrs. Catelyn—in a short time now
we will do all our heating by alcohol.
Catelyn—That's good. All we'll have to do will be to connect your Uncle
Jake to the furnace and range.—Life.

Foolish Question.

"Why, my boy, did you fall in that open coal hole?"

"No; course not. I wuz in here, an'
they built pavement over me."—Illustrated Bits.

By the streets of "by and by" one arrives at the house of "never."—Cervantes.

A FAMOUS REMEDY

Treated MY cough with German Syrup!

He wrote to Dr. G. G. Green:

"An' as true as I tell you, doctor dear,

I'm feelin' finer than ever I've been!"

The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is,
but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Boschee's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made specially for the cure of consumption, and has a worldwide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young.

It is sold in all civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century.

Trial bottle, 25c. Big bottle, 75c. At all druggists throughout the world.

G. S. VARDEN & SON, Paris Ky.

A New Cure.

A doctor whose practice lies mostly in the country districts was recently called to attend a plowman's boy, whom he found to be suffering from whooping cough. Among his instructions he told the mother to "put some ice in a bag and tie it around the boy's head." Next day he called again and was met at the door by the midwife, who, in answer to his query, replied,
"Aye, Jockie's a heap better the day,
but the mice are a' dead."—Dundee Weekly News.

Dancing.

The dance seems to fulfill every requisite of an ideal exercise—the practical use of all the muscles, the acme of pleasurable emotion, and the satisfaction of the esthetic sense. I have often prescribed dancing to my patients with the most gratifying results.

Rather Hard on the Dog.

We have broken our dog of a firmly fixed habit of sleeping upon the beds when the family were away by the following simple method: We spread an old sheet over the entire bed and lightly sprinkle it with cayenne pepper. The sheet was left on but one day, and the dog has never attempted to get on a bed since.—Good Housekeeping.

St. Edmund.

The vacant space in the crypt of Westminster Cathedral, London, close by the spot where rest the mortal remains of Cardinal Wiseman and Cardinal Manning, is soon to be occupied by an altar dedicated to St. Edmund at Canterbury, the last canonized archbishop.

Maj. Thomas' Will Attacked.

James Thomas, of Lancaster, Saturday filed in the Fayette Circuit Court a statement on appeal, in which he attacks the will of his first cousin, Major Barak G. Thomas, who died in May, 1906, and left nearly all of his estate to Margaret Pryor, his colored housekeeper. Shortly after the death of the noted turfman his will was attacked by relatives in South Carolina, and a compromise was effected. In his statement James Thomas declares that he did not participate as a beneficiary in that compromise.

Foraker's Answer to Roosevelt.

In a long and carefully prepared statement United States Senator J. B. Foraker took up the recent charges made by William R. Hearst and President Roosevelt, explaining his temporary connection with the Standard Oil Company and discussing the Brownsville incident and his connection with the rate bill. The points in his statement are as follows:

"Apparently every man who has had any relation to the Standard Oil Company is to be driven out of public life. If so, I shall probably have a great deal of company. Only one month ago, when Mr. Taft visited Toledo, he was the guest of Mr. C. T. Lewis, of the law firm of Doyle & Lewis, who have been the attorneys of the Standard Oil Company for many years, and when Mr. Taft had occasion to pass back and forth between Middle Bass and Toledo, where I had the pleasure of meeting him, he traveled on the yacht of Mr. Richardson, a prominent magnate of the Glass Trust, and while he doubtless paid his fare—at least the papers so announced—while traveling from Hot Springs to Toledo, yet nevertheless he rode in the private car of one of the officers of the road of which Messrs. Doyle & Lewis are also attorneys.

"There did not seem to be any such righteous dislike of these Standard Oil and other Trust representatives ranking in the bosom of Mr. Taft on the occasions to which I refer.

"It is also highly to his credit that when, three years ago, the President had occasion to appoint a U.S. District Judge for the Northern District of Ohio, Mr. Taft, knowing the abilities and high character of John H. Doyle, of this same Standard Oil firm of Doyle & Lewis, did not hesitate to recommend him to the President in strong language for appointment to that Judgeship. The Standard Oil relation of Judge Doyle, then well-known to Mr. Taft, did not prevent him from recognizing his high character and general fitness for such a sacred trust.

"Without disparaging genuine morality it can be truthfully said that less imaginary and professional 'lightness of action' and 'moral awakening' and more common sense in the policies of the Administration would have been better for the country.

"I had in mind not the stopping indefinitely of railroad construction at a time when it is so badly needed, nor the losses amounting to billions of dollars, in values of all kinds of securities, but the empty dinner pails and suffering families of thousands of unemployed wage-earners.

"A million dinner pails have been kicked over. We know that the policies of the Republican party filled them. Whose policies emptied them?"

Tried to Meet.

Taft and Bryan were both in Minneapolis Sunday, but despite the effort of both to meet and exchange greetings the several engagements made for them prevented. Messages were, however, exchanged. Judge Taft spoke at the dedication of the New Y. M. C. A. building in the afternoon and at the Fowler Methodist church at night. Mr. Bryan left for Mitchell, S. D.

New Capitol to Small.

Not enough space to house the various departments of the State Government, as the heads of these departments want to be housed, exists in the new Capitol at Frankfort, and the handsome new building, which is now being completed at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, is already too small. Office rooms are needed already, although the building has never been occupied, and the heads of the various departments are fighting for space, with the probability that each will get only about half what he wants. C. M. Fleener, who is in charge of the construction work at the Capitol, under the direction of the Capitol Commission, has taken up the question of allotment of space in the new building and finds that the Capitol Commission will have a hard task on its hands when it undertakes to say where and how much space each State department shall occupy.

Enough space has been provided for the Governor, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer and the Auditor, and possibly the Attorney General, but the subordinate departments of the State have not enough space by a good deal. The Adjutant General's office, which consists of four separate departments, has been allowed only three rooms, with filing rooms additional, and Gen. P. P. Johnson says he must have more space than that. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Railroad Commission and the Land Office all want several times as much space as has been allowed them. The Kentucky State Historical Society also wants five rooms in addition to the Hall of Fame, and the State Librarian says that he is being crowded and must have more space.

When the new Capitol was first built it was supposed that for many years to come the State departments would have all the room needed, and there would not be any necessity for enlargement, but when actual occupancy is taken up it is found that not enough space has been provided, and the new building is too small. The whole question of allotment of space is to be settled by the Capitol Commission. The arrangement made by the architect will have to be changed, and some of the rooms devoted to purposes other than those for which they were designed originally.

Good Day's Work.

W. J. Bryan made a dozen speeches Saturday in Wisconsin. A feature of the visit to Madison was the presence in the hall where Mr. Bryan spoke of Senator Robert M. La Follette, who occupied a prominent seat among the audience, and who, in reply to a direct question by one of his admirers, if Mr. Bryan's argument on publicity of campaign contributions before election was not "all right," responded "yes, it is."

Haskell's Resignation.

The resignation of Governor Haskell is forwarded to Chairman Mack P. night, reads:

"Hon. Norman L. Mack, Chairman Democratic National Comm.

"My Dear Sir—In pursuance of your order, when I went home before I returned today, I now learn that he will be detained in the East until I leave tomorrow.

"Since the President and his cabinet have joined forces with Mr. Hearst, three Wall street brokers to make personal fight against me notwithstanding the President in his absence about Ohio Standard Oil cases, etc., and his Wall street allies, they are in vicious, unwarranted and untrue attacks on me—personally I welcome their attack, and shall meet it all the vigor at my command. I treat them as private citizens and pay no attention to the penalties of the law and their merit.

"In this I know I shall have the support of my neighbors at home, for all our purposes, but my time must be reserved for other demands here.

"My heart is full of hope for the election of Bryan and Kern. His government and rule by the people at stake. Important beyond any election at the polls in the last general election.

"I would not for one moment consider remaining in any way connected with the committee, therefore, I beg by tender my resignation as Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee that not the slightest contest of my own could in any way be used by President to cloud the sky and scare off opponents from discussing the real issues and laying bare the Republican policy to the people.

"Sincerely yours,

"C. N. HASKELL.

No Trace of Missing Student.

Willis E. Smith, the State University freshman, is still missing. No clue as to whereabouts has been obtained. He has been gone nearly one week, having disappeared last Tuesday night.

Smith is the son of Rev. Willis Smith, who is pastor of a Presbyterian church in Melrose, New Mexico, matriculated at State University, Lexington, August 31 and went to study with his brother, Ernest Smith, second year man. They have been rooming at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Beauchamp, president of the Kenton W. C. T. U., on the Versailles near Lexington.

The young man was last seen leaving Beauchamp home Tuesday evening by Miss Minerva Collins, and from time on nothing has ever been heard of him. It was first said that he was a victim of college hazing but a general canvass of the college shows this is not so.

His brother Ernest at first thought he had gone to the home of their brother, Frampton Smith, in Oberlin, but on inquiry it was found nothing had been heard of him. Probable that a reward will be offered for information of his whereabouts. The police have been working the case, but have not discovered anything. They think that the boy is making his way back to Melrose, New Mexico. A telegram received from the home of the boy states that nothing has been seen or heard of him at Melrose since his disappearance last Tuesday night.
